The Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) is the most widely used sustainability/ESG reporting standard. This training course will prepare participants to manage their sustainability reporting process using the GRI Standards and will introduce them to all the key elements of a solid sustainability/ESG report. Reporters seeking to implement the GRI Standards and experienced reporters integrating GRI Standards with other international standards, frameworks and regulatory requirements (ESRS, IFRS, SASB, IR, SDGs, Stock Exchange requirements etc) will learn how to effectively utilise the Standards and develop sustainability reports that are technically sound, meaningful, engaging, and create value for the company and the stakeholders alike. This training is delivered in an interactive manner and includes interactive presentations, small group discussions, practicing on examples of various reports, and using disclosures to familiarise with the GRI Standards.

Take outs of the course include

How to:

- Manage the reporting process internally
- Identify and prioritise your stakeholders
- Identify material topics and their boundaries (internal and/or external to your organisation)
- Select and prepare the information to be disclosed in the final report
- Communicate your sustainability report

Key Topics Include

1. Sustainability reporting essentials
2. Structure of the GRI Standards
3. The process of reporting – steps for GRI Standards reporting
4. International frameworks and standards
5. Double materiality process
6. Communicating results

Who should attend

This course is designed for professionals from the following functions:

Sustainability, ESG, CSR, Governance and Risk, Strategy, Human Resources, Environment, Marketing/Communications/PR, Quality, Supply Chain/Logistics, Health and Safety, Investor Relations, Operational Excellence, Corporate Philanthropy, Foundations.

Aim and Objectives

The aim of this training is to support participants to:

- Develop a process for reporting
- Gain an understanding of the structure and requirements of the GRI Standards
- Develop an insight into how the organisation can disclose its approach on material topics
- Understand the requirements to disclose economic, environmental, and social impacts
- Practice on real examples from various organizations
- Learn how to prioritise content via materiality (double materiality)
